Doonan Specialized Trailer, LLC gets LOW with the introduction of a Mechanical Detachable Double Drop

Great Bend, Ks. – Doonan Specialized Trailer, LLC, the third largest manufacturer of drop deck trailers in North America, introduces its new line of lowbed trailers. This line consists of fixed neck and mechanical detachable double drop trailers, as well as, extendable models of each. “The basis for these trailers came from our custom fixed neck 5” double drop trailers which we have been building for the boating industry for the past 5 years. We have taken what we have learned from these designs, and developed a standard product offering that will reach a much larger market”, according to Matt Hensiek Chief Engineer of Doonan Specialized Trailer, LLC.

With its long history of drop deck production, the successful introduction of flatbed trailers earlier this year, and now with the development of a lowbed line of trailers, the Company believes it now offers one stop shopping for its dealers. “Not only can you get all three product lines from a single source, but remember you can get YOUR TRAILER YOUR WAY”, according to Elgen L. Reynolds Co-Manager of Doonan Specialized Trailer, LLC.

To celebrate the occasion, the Company is offering its dealers a $500 discount on all lowbed and drop deck trailers ordered between now and December 31, 2007. Based on the current backlog, new orders for lowbed trailers could be produced by the middle of February.
